From the President

Dear CDB Friends,

I just can't believe Christmas is only 5 weeks away, and I have not started my Christmas shopping. With 17 grandchildren & 10 great grandchildren guess I had better get busy. We are looking forward to Thanksgiving, and are so thankful & blessed to have such a wonderful family.

So far the weather has been beautiful here in Tennessee, but I know it won't last long. Time goes by so much faster as you get older, so spring will be here before you know it.

The CDB Family Reunion was wonderful this year. Everyone seemed to have a great time. Being the Fan Club president this is my favorite time where I get to meet so many new members, and see all my old friends.

I was so fortunate to be able to take my 18yr old granddaughter Sara to The Sean Hannity Freedom Tour concert in Cincinnati Ohio. What an awesome show it was! Sara is such a huge CDB & Lynryd Skynyrd fan & has never seen Lynryd Skynyrd. She has thanked me a hundred times for taking her.

We have a few new merchandise items I hope you will like. The new bags & blanket really are nice & will make great Christmas gifts. Try to get your orders in soon as we only have a limited supply. Checkout the new contest Charlie came up with, and get your entries in soon.

I pray you all have a wonderful Christmas & a Happy New Year.

Lots of Love & Blessings,
Ginger

P.S. Please don't forget to renew your membership.

Ginger

A LETTER FROM CHARLIE

Well hello y'all

First of all I want to say what a wonderful experience it was touring with Lynyrd Skynyrd, Michael W. Smith, Ollie North and all the gang on the Sean Hannity Freedom Tour this year.

The Freedom Alliance ,which benefits from the concerts, is a great outfit, it's purpose is to make sure that the children of those who have given their lives or become 100% disabled in the service of this nation, are not deprived of getting a college education.

Let's take our hats off to Sean, Ollie and all the patriots who work so hard to make this worthy cause successful.

I for one am so glad that the election is over. From the political ads you start thinking that anybody who runs for political office is a downright rascal by the time the opposition gets through with them. I would like to see one election where the candidates talk about nothing but the issues and left out the personal attacks, but I guess it would take a miracle for that to happen.

I'd like to thank the folks at Indian Ranch for having that bigger than life wooden carving of me done, it was quite an honor when they presented it at our annual concert there.

Tennessee is turning brown and light frost sparkles on the grass some mornings, winter can't be far behind.

One of the things I love about living in Tennessee is that we have all four seasons, and I love every one of them. Every season has its own particular charm and I've learned to treasure each one of them. I turned 74 a couple of weeks ago. I don't know what that's supposed to mean for one's lifestyle, but so far it hasn't changed mine.

We are already booking dates for 2011 and looking forward to the future and enjoying every day, as it comes.

Let's do a contest. Here it goes.

Where was I born, in what hospital and at what time of day? Send your entries to Ginger by March first 2011 and we'll take all the entries that get all three questions right and draw three names. All three will receive an autographed fiddle.

Hope you've had a wonderful year.
We'll talk again soon
God Bless.
